

Chris Buck Band is is ALL IN, which is the name of the band's new album, released in February 2019 to over a million listeners. One of the most streamed country music artists in Canada, and a band that's consistently invited back to events, Chris' songwriting prowess and love of music shines boldly through his songs, from the recent Top 30 hit "Good Ol' Days" to the upbeat anthem "Giddy Up", and the balladry of the Top 20 radio smash "That's When You Know".

From auspicious beginnings to becoming a top charting country artist, Chris Buck was inspired to go "ALL IN" and pursue a serious career in music after the death of a young musician friend whom he had mentored. For years the band rode the asphalt, growing a grassroots following before signing with Royalty Records / Sony Music Canada in 2016. Chris Buck Band's self-titled 2017 debut on the label features 5x top 40 country radio hits, and his most recent release has racked up a Top 30 hit and over a million streams in the first 3 months. Along with Chris Buck, the group's current line-up consists of guitarists Ryan Stead and Phil Puxley, bassist Matt Generaux and drummer Taylor Allum.
